

Grants Program

Digital Collections in Arts and Sciences

Arts & Sciences faculty:

Transform unique textual and visual collections that are...

- based on your collections
- already held by Cornell University Library
- held by other institutions

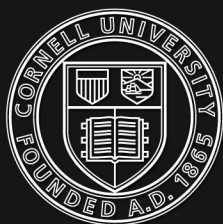

Your idea + our technical expertise = a great digital collection

Proposal deadline: March 30, 2012

For the grant application form and more information, go to dcaps.library.cornell.edu/a&sgrants or email dcaps@cornell.edu

Cornell University
College of Arts and Sciences

Greek and Roman coins from a 2010 project.

The program, funded by the College of Arts & Sciences and coordinated by Cornell University Library, was developed by the Arts & Sciences Visual Resources Advisory Group. 2011 Awards include: Greek and Roman Coins (Annetta Alexandridis), Japanese Woodblocks (Katsuya Hirano and Dan McKee), Müller: Kluge Interviews (David Bathrick), Experimental Television Center (Tim Murray), Divine Comedy Image Archive (Karen Pinkus), Hip Hop (Steve Pond).