

The Student Library Advisory Council will meet on Monday, Feb. 2 from 5-6 pm in 703 Olin Library. Food and beverages will be provided. The agenda includes:

1) New Library home page and web site < www.library.cornell.edu>. (20 min.)

Zsuzsa Koltay, chair of the implementation team, will solicit your comments about the new web site. Has this improved your experience connecting to the library?

2) Cornell University Library on Facebook (20 min.)

A new Cornell University Library Facebook page will be used primarily as a publicity and marketing tool to tell students, faculty and staff about what's going on in the Library. Events and services of any size - workshops, changes in library hours, major conferences, Chats in the Stacks, online exhibits, news items about the Library, new reference materials, etc. - will all be included. It isn't intended as an avenue for serious research or study, although we do plan to embed the Ask-A-Librarian application on the page. Any user can post on the Wall or upload photos.

Do you think this page sounds useful, and would you become a fan? Gwen Glazer, staff writer and editor in the Communications Department, will show you the page and ask for feedback on how could we improve it, and which elements you would you like to see added or taken off the page

3) Your issues and how the library can better assist you (20 min.)

Follow-up on issues raised at the Nov. 24 meeting and an opportunity for you to ask questions, offer suggestions, and to raise issues of concern about the Cornell University Library. If there are issues you would like to address in greater depth at this or future meetings, please let us know and we will provide time on the agenda.
