

During the four day conference in Toronto, Canada, she attended workshops and informative sessions on metadata (cataloging with VRA Core 4 and CCO; presentations on data structure and data values), specialized searching and access issues, collaboration and aggregation projects, etc. Highlights of conference included engaging new technologies where users live and work such as Flickr, Blog, Google Docs, Google Earth, Zoomii, Photosynth, MySpace, Twitter, RSS feeds and strategies for working with Generation Y also known as "Millennials." Also attended presentations for digital image platforms ARTstor and LUNA Insight.