"Your Name Here"'s Individual Contribution Page

"Semester" Contributions

This is my first research so I was a little lost on how to use Wiki/wiki mark up, but now I'm doing fine. I am working in CDC team. With my group I have monitored experiments, have written my first minutes meeting last week, have volunteered to do individual studies, which help be helpful in understanding of foam formation. This week I am working with my group to find a simple and cheap way to solve foam formation in the plants and the mean time do further studies on bubble formation and different types of surfactants.

I have contributed in the teach ins, this week I'm working with the group on the mid term assignment.

Pages Created

I have not created a full page alone but I have helped in creating CDC Summer 2009 Goals page.
