abs265

Adam Salwen's Individual Contribution Page

Spring 2011 Contributions

I wrote the LFOM algortithm that is currently in use. The algorithm picks how many orifices should be in each row by minimizing total mean squared error. Additionally, the algorithm calculates the minimal diameter of the LFOM using the Stout Weir to estimate flow.

Content Created

Content created by Anonymous
There are no pages at the moment.