

Backups for computers

Contact ChemIT for a consultation to characterize your backup needs and receive our recommendations to cost-effectively meet those needs. See also hard disk recovery resources.

Backups and file storage options for research groups

ChemIT sharing their recommendations and best-practices for backups and group file storage. May be of particular value to research groups.

Personal backups

Protect your data, even if not on institutional systems or services.

- Backup cloud services like Google and DropBox.com — Hacked accounts make cloud services vulnerable. Back them up if they contain sufficient value to you. Also, encryption options
- Backup ideas for personal computers — Sharing backup info ChemIT staff have come across which may help others backing up their personal computers.