

meh272

Marissa Hartleb's Individual Contribution Page

Spring 2014 Contributions

As part of the arsenic sub-team, I will work to understand and further previous arsenic research. More specifically, we will learn how to accurately measure low concentrations of arsenic, explore the behavior of arsenic during relevant water treatment processes, and explore a small-scale continuous flow system.