Spring 2015

This semester, I am working on Turbulent Tube Flocculator as part of my M.S. research. I am hoping to help bring the apparatus to full functionality and run some great experiments so that we can learn more about the mysteries of flocculation. I am looking forward to working with my team (Felice) and Bagel Tuesdays.

A concerned friend has proposed this as my actual statement:

This semester I've moved into Hollister and taken over the AguaClara lab as my bedroom. I like to spend all my time at home and I think Hollister is the biggest home I'm ever going to get. There are a lot of pesky kiddies that like to walk around in my living room but I like company so I deal with it.
