Garret Jancich's Individual Contribution Page

Spring 2015 Contributions

My name is Garret Jancich, and I am a senior Environmental Engineer on the Fabrication Team. This semester, I plan to design, fabricate, and test a working floc hopper probe with my teammate Steve Love. We plan to look into making this probe extendable, as well as trying to minimize past issues with the smudging of the epoxy. Hopefully we will tackle this sub-project within the next month or so and then move on to some of the many other fabrication team challenges.
