

CUL Digital Collections Portal

Mary Beth Martini-Lyons

Jenn Colt

September 18, 2015, 9:00am, Olin Library 703

Description

A CUL Digital Collections Portal is currently under development. The goal of the Portal will be to provide a central location to house CUL digital collections, and help de-silo these rich assets and make them more discoverable to users. This session will provide an overview of the Portal, background on how these collections have been served up in the past, information on the technology behind Portal, and what the path forward looks like.