

CU Blogs with Chem domain names, payments, accounts, and official lists from CIT

CIT charges $100 annually for Chem domain names pointing to CU Blogs. This page contains information on who pays and a history of CIT's data on this topic.

- <http://www2.cit.cornell.edu/blogs/custom-domain-blogs.csv>
- Above info from CIT trouble report:
  - <http://www.it.cornell.edu/services/alert.cfm?id=4295>

DNS address to use with a CU Blog

- *.c1140.campuspress.com

For example:

- it.chem.cornell.edu.c1140.campuspress.com

Notes about CIT's charges

Charges are for past hosting, so one pays for time used. For example:

- On May 15, 2018, CIT is charging for FY18's services (July 2017-June2018). Per email to Oliver in ChemIT INC000002227553.

Payments within Chemistry

In the first year the Chemistry department paid for all Chemistry sites. CIT started charging July 2017, so paying for existing sites was the right way to start into this change.

On-going, here's a reminder of decisions made to-date (as of 4/17/2018), with specific sites cited in the table below:

- Any sites created since then pays their own way, using their own accounts.
- Faculty CU Blogs sites using domain names before July 2017 are still paid for by the department (they are so far "grandfathered in"; and Davis's, too)
  - Maybe in the future these can be more properly accounted for to each group.
- Sites supporting special efforts or grants pay their own way, using their own accounts.
- Departmental web sites pay their own way, using their own accounts.

Table of classifications related to who funds a blog site's domain name

Number of web sites	Classification of the web site	The sites	Additional notes
3	New sites, as of July 2017	Ando (7/2018), Milner (7/2018), Lambert (1 /2018),
13	Faculty CU Blogs sites using domain names before July 2017	Abruna (...) Wolczanski. And Davis (9 /2017)	Basically grandfathered in. For how much longer?
1	Specialty research site	CBI (Hening's 2nd CU Blog)
4	Departmental sites	Glass Shop, Chemistry IT, Rooms, Xray
Total: 21 (as of Fall 2018)

Data CIT file, pulled 4/17/18

- Data Oliver sent CIT, May 2018
  - Oliver tracked conversation with CIT using ChemIT INC000002227553.
- On May 15, 2018, CIT is charging these for FY18's services (July 2017-June2018), other than the "New, for (date):" ones.
- As of April 17, 2018, there are 19 <chem.cornell.edu> domains registered at CU Blogs.
