Ashish's Individual Contribution Page

Fall 2016 Contributions

I have been working on redesigning the Constant Head Tank with my sub-team.

Spring 2017 Contributions

Working with the PR team to enhance the reach of Agua Clara inside and outside the Cornell Community through various events, including but not limited to team bonding, Facebook updates/events and Agua Clara merchandise.

So far, I have created an instagram account for agauclara under the username: cornellaguaclara. The account focuses on outreaching to people in and around the Cornell community so that the name of agauclara can be spread around and more people are aware of what we do as a team. I am also currently working on some merchandise including clothes and bottles. The team is focusing on campus-wide events for World Water Week in March which will spread awareness. The Facebook page is my next project to enhance the outreach of the team.

I am taking the lead on the newsletter and am conducting interviews and collecting photos and content to put in for the newsletter. The newsletter should be out soon and am currently working on the drafts.

Now, I plan to take on some other projects that the sub-team comes up with and dedicate the rest of the semester towards working for that.
